ADA MYRIEL MEINICH
VIOLA / VOICE

Ada MYRIEL Meinich

I love music. Notes, sounds, imitations and, even more, their expressions. My life as a musician has been a lovely and exciting journey of discovery: through my studies I explored all the possibilities of classical music, working in a professional string quartet I experienced how music communicates, creating soundscapes for different theatre pieces I learned how to build the music on the essence of the expression. To explore further how to grasp the essence I started to play intuitive music and use “scores” that connected me directly to the deeper meaning, such as paintings, poems and natural phenomena. Through all my classical concerts as well as through this work with “expanded scores” I observed how much our being itself influences the music, how much the communication of music is channelled through our presence. This inspired me to start using my being as an instrument and tune in to what I want to play. To “Be The Music” has become the basis of my approach to music and performing as well as an invitation and guide for other musicians.

Through the immediacy of music making I learned that the authentic experience of the present is my way to happiness. To “be present” has become the basis of my life.

In STUDIO EINKLANG

I share these experiences with concerts, private masterclasses, workshops and coaching. Since I realized that performance is so much more than musical knowledge and mastering my instrument I expanded my studies and got trained as an Alpha Chi Feng Shui consultant. This is a very direct and soft method based on the old Eastern tradition which helps me listen in to the essence as well as guide and direct energies back into flow.
